As President of Federation.

CONVENTION ENDS

Norfolk Chosen as Tentative
Meeting Place for Next Year.

F. J. Landow, of Washington, was reelected president of the Middle Atlantic Federation of the Young Men's Hebrew Association and Young Women's Hebrew Association at the final business session of the convention here yesterday.

F. S. Gichner, of Washington, was elected first vice president. Other officers elected include Miss Ida Swirsky, of Norfolk, Va., second vice president; Mrs. Philip R. Sykes, of Baltimore, third vice president, and I. W. Schimmel, of Baltimore, secretary and treasurer.

Norfolk, Va., was tentatively chosen as the meeting place for the next convention, subject to change in case the proposed merger with the Pennsylvania Federation becomes a reality. Full power to make the merger a fact was left with the executive committee.

Thanks President Harding.
Rabbi Abram Simon, as the chief speaker at the noon luncheon, declared that the forthcoming disarming conference in Washington would mark one of the great steps in history. He urged that every Jewish young man and woman in the convention give the war the warmest support, pointing out that Jewish history urged the same thing.

At the rabbi's suggestion, resolutions were drawn and passed unanimously thanking President Harding for his action in calling the Conference and pledging the support of the Y. M. H. A. in whatever he may be able to accomplish.

Would Wipe Out Disputes.
Mrs. Herman Hollander, superintendent of the Washington Hebrew Congregation Sunday School, urged the wiping out of denominationalism among the Jews and declared that the differences between orthodox and reformed were unnecessary. Following her address the convention adopted resolutions declaring that whenever a Jewish Community center is established in Washington it should not be attached to any particular synagogue.

A novel demonstration in the air over Mount Vernon has also been arranged to symbolize the progress of civilization since the days of Washington and Lafayette. HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE WINS
3 TO 2 IN GAME WITH POLICE

Commissioner Oyster Presents Silk Flag To Victors—Ticket Sales Add $17,358 to Police Relief Fund.

Police power bowed before Home Defense protection yesterday and before a crowd of 10,000 spectators, including District government heads and police chiefs, Home Defense League diamond ball players defeated the Police Department 3 to 2, at American League Park yesterday afternoon.

Presenting the silk American flag, Capt. Randolph Jones, president of the Home Defense League, presented the trophy and his congratulations to the Home Defense League, which could not only trim his men on Labor Day, but was an able assistant in the Police Department throughout the year.

Accompanying Commissioner Oyster was Mrs. Oyster, who made one of her first public appearances yesterday since her recent illness. Other boxes were occupied by municipal, police and Home Defense officials. Most of the police captains were seated in the stand in front of the right field covered pavilion.

Service men occupied most of the section of the grandstand behind first base. The Marine band, which played before the game, between innings and after the game, was seated there. Following Maj. Gessford's suggestion, many purchasers of tickets who were unable to attend the game sent their cardboards to Walter Reed Hospital and a number of convalescent boys shared the stand with the band.

"Aunt Mary" Waves Flag.
"Aunt Mary," the well-known newspaper saleslady, sat behind the press box and waved an American flag for both sides, but when the cops staged a comeback in the ninth, it was too much for her and she had to dance.

"Nick" Altrock had a rival in his coverings. One of the spectators, Jennie Friedbach, gave several of the rental dances which Nick likes to imitate so well, and the two of them stole the crowd's attention from the game.

Net $17,358 for Police Fund.
Police reported ticket sales aggregating $17,358. Superintendent of Police Gessford announced. This money, as well as the gate receipts, will be turned over to the police relief fund for widows and children of policemen. Souvenir programs sold at the game paid all expenses. Maj. Gessford said.

Police precincts had a lively contest for ticket selling supremacy, and the first precinct won the blue ribbon with a sale of $3,031 reported.

The second precinct came second, with sales amounting to $2,400, and the third place went to the Tenth precinct which turned in $2,110.

A vivid story of a hold-up in broad daylight in front of the post office at Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, when thousands of people were on the streets on their lunch hour, told by James Davis, salesman for a "Liberty lunch wagon," failed to "get across" yesterday morning in police court.

Davis was arrested on complaint of the Lefflor Food Products Company, his employer, and charged with converting $14.90 to his own use on August 14 last. His lunch wagon was found abandoned in the rear of the postoffice.

The boy told Judge Mattingly that a highwayman approached him, covered him with a gun and took the money. When asked by the court why he did not make a complaint to his employers or to the police Davis explained that he was afraid. The court sentenced him to serve three months in jail and placed him on probation for one year. He gave his address as Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Loretta Dwyer Hangs
Self in Cellar of Her Home.

Mrs. Loretta Anna Dwyer, 2316 N street northwest, committed suicide yesterday morning about 6:30 o'clock by hanging by a sheet from a rafter in the cellar of her residence.

Mrs. Dwyer was discovered by her sons, Paul and Elmer, 10 and 12 years old respectively, who had gone downstairs for breakfast and entered the cellar in search of their mother. Seeing her, they awakened their brother Harry, 16 years old, who untied and carried the body upstairs.

Dr. Jerome Crowley, of Stoneleigh Courts, was called but pronounced her dead. Dwyer said last night that his wife had worried for some time about disagreements between himself and brother.
